

Careventures is looking for an enthusiastic and motivated student for an internship at its Brussels office. The intern will be part of the investment team and will be involved in deal origination, deal execution and monitoring of portfolio companies.

About Careventures

Careventures is an independent pan-European private equity firm that invests in high-growth and profitable small and mid-cap companies in the healthcare services sector.

Careventures builds and grows successful business platforms in unconsolidated niches within European healthcare services by executing multiple follow-on acquisitions, accurately addressing and exploiting technological shifts and/or changes in regulatory environments.

Currently Careventures has two companies in its portfolio: Corus, a consolidator of dental labs in Europe and Centogene, a rare disease diagnostics company quoted on Nasdaq stock exchange since November 2019.

Qualifications and personality

- Master student in engineering, economics, finance or similar;
- Excellent English (written and spoken)
- Proficiency in Excel and PowerPoint
- Strong work ethics and detail-oriented
- Team player with a positive mindset and good communication skills

Responsibilities

- Contributing to deal origination by performing market research. Summarize relevant industry trends and insights to assess the attractiveness of the market
- Assist in the evaluation of investment opportunities (strategic analysis, financial, market)
- Assist the investment team in deal execution (review and coordination of due diligence, business plan modelling, drafting investment paper, valuation of the investment opportunity)
- Assist in monitoring the performance of portfolio companies and help them with their buy and build strategy

Application details

- Flexible start date
- Internship of at least 2 months
- Location: Brussels office

To apply please send your CV and cover letter to info@careventures.eu